

Ramesses II - XXVIII. Deir el-Medina: 493
B. Individuals & Families - Workmen & Families

5. Stela IV, Cairo JdE. 72020.

(a) Upper Register. Papyrus-umbel vase before a hippopotamus; no texts.

(b) Lower Register. Two men face each other, kneeling and adoring.

(i) Man at Right. Giving praise to Seth great in strength, Son of Nut, that he may give life, 733:10 prosperity and health for the spirit of the Servant in the Place <of Truth>, Penamun, [justified].

(ii) Man at Left. Giving praise to Seth the Beloved of Re, great in strength in the Barque of Millions (of Years), for the spirit of his son Shedamun (or: Amen-shedu), justified.

Ramesseid Inscriptions, Translated and Annotated Translations: Ramesses II ... By Kenneth A. Kitchen

24. Stela VI, Cairo J. 41396.

(i) Frame, Right Half. [An offering which the King gives, (to) DN] Both Lands(?), great god, Lord of heaven, that he may give L.P.H., and a goodly burial after old age, in the [beautiful/mighty] West of Thebes, for the spirit of the [Viceroy], Setau.

(ii) Frame, Left Half. [An offering which the King gives, (to) DN, that he may give] [fav]our before the goodly god, for the spirit of the Viceroy of Kush, Setau.

90:15 (iii) Upper Scene. King worships three deities.

(a) King. Giving praise to his father Amun, that he may attain 'given life'. (b) Deities. [Lost].

91:1 (iv) Lower Scene. Giving praise to Amun,

paying homage to Seth, great in strength;

I give praise to Renenutet, Lady of Sustenance,

I propitiate Ramesses II in the House of Amun,

- that they may grant favour before the King and the West for happy old age,

my mouth being sound, my step in its (proper) place,

[without] bringing up any misdeed of mine ('his'),

- for the spirit (of) the High Steward of the City (=Thebes), Festival-leader of Amun, Viceroy of Kush and Superintendent of Southern Desert-lands, real King's Scribe, cherished by him, Setau.